TESTS: ANTICIPATING TEST QUESTIONS

1. Pay particular attention to any study guides that the instructor hands out prior to the exam.
2. Ask the instructor what will be on the test.
3. Pay particular attention to points the instructor brings up during the class just prior to the exam.
4. Make a list of questions you think might be on the exam, then answer them.
5. Review previous tests given by the instructor.
6. Ask other students what they think will be on the test.
7. Pay attention to these clues when an instructor:
  - says something more than once.
  - writes material on the board.
  - pauses to review notes.
  - asks questions of the class.
  - says, "This will be on the test."
